Woodbury Products, Inc. Acquires DHP Home Delivery

Oceanside, N.Y. – Woodbury Products (WPI) announced today that it has completed the acquisition of DHP Home Delivery, located in Alabama. DHP Home Delivery will maintain its web-based operations with expanded capabilities for deliverable products and services to its customer base for the foreseeable future.

According to Woodbury CEO Brian Darling, “We are excited about this enhancement to our business and will continue to pursue add-on acquisitions in the incontinence product distribution products space. DHP Home Delivery sells a variety of products currently not offered by Woodbury, such as compression stockings, diabetic socks, and wound care, cardiology, and urology products. DHP allows Woodbury to become a multi-vertical healthcare products distributor and gives the Company a new brand, Kendall (marketed under the SureCare® brand), to sell to our existing patients.”

Mike Gentry, Founder of DHP Home Delivery added “Woodbury has built an exceptional brand and we are excited to partner with them. With Woodbury’s large patient base, the partnership will lead to even greater growth opportunities for our Kendall products.” Mike will continue to lead DHP Home Delivery as Consulting General Manager of the DHP division for the foreseeable future.

ABOUT WOODBURY

Woodbury Products (WPI) is a privately held distributor of high quality incontinence and related health care products and aides either directly to the users of such products or through state and local agencies who supply these products to their patients. The Company offers over 250 items, including baby and adult diapers, pull-ups, pads, and linens with approximately 50 different types of diapers. The Company also sells gloves, creams, wipes, and other products required by its target customers.

ABOUT DHP HOME DELIVERY

Originally founded in 2002 by Mr. Mike Gentry, DHP Home Delivery is a direct to consumer nationwide distributor of disposable healthcare products. The Company uses its online storefront as its main distribution channel. DHP strongly encourages repeat business by offering an optional recurring order program where patients regularly receive a new supply of healthcare products monthly in return for a discount. The Company offers free delivery to its clients via UPS and emphasizes discrete delivery, convenience and outstanding customer service, in perfect alignment with Woodbury Health Products business culture.
